

David Mccullough Cash

Hello everyone, great to be talking with you again as if its not incredibly difficult to have this conversation at all. After days of constant threats from Bloomberg and less than usual from Fox News, I have decided that the next election should and will be won by none other than Hillary Rodham Clinton. I realize she lost once to Donald Trump in 2016, but I firmly believe in this time of division and terrible outcomes by rogue nations and bad actors that she is more than qualified to lead our entire nation into the uncertain waters that exist ahead of us. With Joe Biden's health uncertain, many in both the Democrat and Republican Party believe a more focused direction for America lays in store for America. Donald Trump has inadvertently caused the chaos by Putin in the Ukraine, regardless of who instigated the conflict, it could have been avoided and most likely a deep state operative with an evil intent who did not care about the loss of life at any point in the nearly year long conflict. Donald Trump failed to represent minorities properly and only represented whites unfairly and repeatedly expressed his resentment towards anyone and everyone not fully of aryan descent. After and at Jan. 6, he caused threats to the integrity of American as well as our important relationships with Asian Nations like China, South Korea, Japan, Russia and the Ukraine (despite the temporary solvable conflict). The truth is, Donald Trump is nothing more than a pawn of the New World Order, who pre-plan and predict his future actions based on targeted personality tests and predictive computing that knows what he will do before he even does it. Furthermore, his wife Melania threatened a high-level official of the FSB, which has recently cut ties with Trump after his failure to successfully launch his Truth Social app, which was purposefully programmed to fail, alienating and marginalizing his users by making them all look like morons and fools. I remember the odd occurrence of former President Bill Clinton coming to my high school, Huntsville High, to deliver the state of the union or something along those lines, which was a really big deal back then for our city. There is actually a street named after Clinton in downtown Huntsville that hosts a yearly parade in his honor. After Bill & Hillary Clinton left office at the turn of the century, the deadly attacks of 9/11 happened under new leadership by another Republican hawk (not to say that Biden couldn't have avoided the current conflict). The true reason Hillary should be elected is that since a female has never been given the position of President, she is uniquely qualified and perhaps chosen by potentially an alien race or artificial intelligence that has finally found a woman to lead not only symbolically or in a secondary position, but as the true and dignified leader of the USA. This lack of representation has caused deep anger that could have implications throughout our solar system and galaxy, according to NASA and the Chinese Space Administration. The sheer volume and accuracy of data continues to indicate hillary clinton must be elected or a great cataclysm will occur because of the continued denial of the chosen female leader of an advanced group of humans from the Clinton bloodline. We must not forget how popular Bill Clinton was the relative peace and tranquility of his administration that helped birth the world wide web and created what we see today. Most likely, although Clinton has been unfairly slandered and targeted because of her looks (which is sexist in nature and derogatory) and Fox News should not be trusted next time around as they are losing power to other sources on Youtube which will be vital to taking market share and influence in the direction of more impartial media sources that are non-cable and internet-based. Something is mysterious in the sway that Fox News has over the public, without a clear competitor with the rival two networks MSNBC and CNN. I cannot disagree with this assesment, and this is not democracy, this is tyranny and despotism by far-right wing maniacs that dont care about the earth, nature, climate change, business even though they are profitable or emerging, they are flooded in war propoganda and will. Furthermore, the city of Huntsville where me and my family and friends have lived for many years is called CH for short and thats HC backwards, which is relevant data that can be easily tracked and the key info there is that the first NASA base was/is located at Marshall Space Flight Center and associated offices and equipment. Something about this area is important, in a similar way to Austin, TX, where Joe Rogan and Elon Musk are challenging the narrative but staying in a lower taxed area (which is good) but we must remember we do have obligations to citizens but cannot sacrifice particularly emerging businesses such as cryptocurrency and Cash App and Venmo instant internet transactions that can add up to the billions of a year if allowed to grow without restriction and any more than a 1-5% tax on each total transaction. Imagine transferring $100,000 in one minute across the country or face to face to a business partner. We must not shut down industry, and Hillary Clinton understands business and will cooperate with business leaders. At this point, I can't say much more and obviously I could be threatened or coerced to withdraw my nomination, endorsement or unofficial Hopeful Prediction. The Human Population matters. The Hunted Person or Hunted Animal shares similar fears whether emotionally or in the chase through the wild. There is something out there, and I believe it has found us and our families and leaders and this could always end in a final nuclear standoff which has just about happened quite recently due to not Trump and Biden's actions. In fact, Hillary and her transition team might need to take control now in 2022 to prevent even further world destabilization by brazen strategies by multiple world powers that rely on Cooler Heads to Prevail, as it were. That is enough info (dial 411 on a landline) we must put facts together and think critically when we and I and you put all this together. And also, please keep in mind although well meaning, many Christians and Islamics are misguided by bizarre and dangerous sexual propoganda and strict family structures that encourage degradation and confusion, and our laws should not be hijacked by those wishing to restrict medical and social freedom by quoting Bible Verses from 2000 years ago. The Bible deserves an update, so lets consider a joint solution that covers all areas of religion and spirituality. Also, states like Oregon deserve respect and further help to continue their drug legalization programs that are being stopped by potentially alien or enemy AI systems that seek to prey off fallen humans enslaved by bizarre zealots and infidels that do not really represent Allah or Jesus (both similar in message) This is about raw logic versus human confusion and madness based on centuries of lies. I hope this has been helpful to your human learning experience and there will be more info to come when I can provide it at this same location here at the Internet Archive or wherever you find it. Finally, I want you all to know I was born on Nov. 8, 1981 on Ronald Reagan's Republican Win that led to a two term administration. He started out as an actor then mysteriously materialized into a candidate for President. However, unlike Reagan, I am not looking to dismantle Russia or their allies, and will try to help achieve peace especially with Mrs. Clinton's leadership that I believe is required immediately in an onsite transition team to assist Joe Biden to restore control of the country and world to avoid any further loss of life or potential civil war and on and on until there is no hope for continued existence. Please consider.

David Mccullough Cash